SAN JUAN.-Piochers who have gonoff on a wild goose chase for San Juan are constantly writing back to their friends and giving their views of the outsay writes from Tierra Amarilla, N. M., February 14, to George Byington, of this February 14, to George Byington, of this place, in which the writer advises his friends not to come to the San Juan country with teams, as he can see nothing for them to do. The country has not been developed, and it will take all next Summer to tell whether it will ever amount to anything. There is no work friends not to come to the San Juan country with teams, as he can see nothing for them to do. The country has not been developed, and it will take all next Summer to tell whether it will ever amount to anything. There is no work for teams or men either, unless the latter wish to prospect, and there is no money in that. The Winter has been money in that. very severe, and snow was about two feet deep all the way from Tierra Ama-rilla to the Animas river, about 125 miles distant. It will be the middle or last of distant. It will be the imide or last of May before any one can get into the mines or mountains where the mines are said to be located. No one from Pioche said to be located. No one from Pioche knows anything about the mines ex-De Orsay says there is the poorest set of men in that country he ever saw. He says there seems to be great excitement about San Juan, but he fails to see any reason for it. He says men have been rushing to and fro all Winter freezing their feet, killing their animals and fight ing Indians, only to lay up in a miser-able adobe town with nothing but chile colorado and heans to cat. De Orsay says no one ought to come to that country unless they are will supplied with money and corn, as there is not a storwithin 125 miles of the supposed mines.

occurred, and we believe no bad blood was engendered. Large quantities of "the ardent" were disposed of, and the invitation to "take another cigar" was frequently given, and as often ace pted. The result was: Whole number of votes, $37; for H. R. Breakey, 652; for James S. Smith, 184; scattering, 1; majority for Breakey, 467. This is Mr. B.'s third election to that office. Mr. Breakey last evening received a certificate of his election, signed by L. E. Atchison and Julius Hoffman, Judges, and Horace D. Beene and John Croyland, Clerks.

Rught and Tumble, Yesterday a rough and tumble fight occurred in front of a saloon on Main street. The fight started in the saloon, between a mixologist and a customer. From the saloon the belligerents found their way to the sidewalk, then out into the muddy street, and again upon the sidewalk. As there happened to be no peace officer present, the fight was allowed to proceed without unolestation, the crowd evidently being satisfied to see the fun go on, as long as it continued a fric fight and no deadly weapons were used. After both parties had become pretty well exhausted, a bystander stepped up and suggested that lawe had better ston. Both parties the stone and better ston. Both parties that lawe had better ston. As there happened to be no peace officer present, the fight was allowed to proceed without molestation, the crowd evidently being satisfied to see the fun go on, as long as it continued a fair fight and no deadly weapons were used. After both parties had become pretty well exhausted, a bystander stepped up and suggested that they had better stop. Both parties then withdrew in good order. Very little was said and no bones were broken. Both fought bravely, and as neither obtained much advantage of his antagonist, there is no reason why they should not be good friends. No arrest was made.

JUDGE FULLER.-We are happy to say that our worth District Judge is improving, though not as rapidly as is desired by his friends. Owing to Judge Fuller's illness the March term has not begun, and it is likely that there will be no Court before Monday.

FARO GAMES .- In our peregrinations yesterday we found that "the tiger" was terribly worried, and the old fellow snorted and growled ferociously. In some places the crowds around the cage were so great that it was difficult to ge a view of the animal.

UPSET.—Yesterday morning a dray upset on McCannon street, throwing the horse to the ground and leaving the driver in a predicament. Two passers by came to the rescue, and, with the driver's assistance, soon put things to HAMILTON STAGE.—The stage from Hamilton arrived yesterday afternoon, bringing as passengers Jot Travis, wife and child and Mrs. Caldwell. The stages on this line are making good time now, yesterday's stage getting in by half-past 3 o'clock.

MUDDY .- The melting snow has had the effect to render the streets quite muddy. This inconvenience is gladly sub-mitted to in the hope that it will not last long.
